

IPSI is for you if...

You are a faculty member or post-Doc

You have an active, policy-relevant research program

You want intensive training in core strategies and tools for disseminating your research beyond academia

You want to expand your network across the academia-policy gap

Click here for more information and to apply to IPSI today!

New Era is for you if...

You are currently a PhD student or recently earned your PhD

You want to learn how to generate, build, and fund a policy-relevant research program

You want to become more active in public policy and to begin disseminating your work

You want to consider a range of careers that bridge the academia-policy gap

Click here for more information and to apply to the New Era Workshop today!